Padauk is an exotic hardwood native to the tropical regions of West Africa, known for its stunning orange-red hue and distinctive grain patterns. Highly durable and naturally resistant to rot, this wood is often chosen for crafting musical instruments, furniture, and flooring. Its vibrant color and unique appearance make it a standout choice for those seeking something truly extraordinary.

Imported from Rogow, Poland, and crafted by WBP, the Jack Exotic Padauk rifle is a robust firearm with a range of impressive features. WBP, a renowned Polish firearms manufacturer, supplies high-quality parts and firearms to police, military, and civilian markets worldwide. The Jack rifle, chambered in 7.62x39mm semi-auto, is compatible with a variety of magazines and drums. It features a Padauk Exotic wood stock set and a deep, rich black metal finish, embodying the classic AK aesthetic. The rifle's barrel, produced by FB Radom—a supplier to the Polish military—is hammer-forged and chrome-lined, ensuring long-lasting performance and exceptional accuracy. With factory serial numbers on most major components and the Polish Eagle emblem on the left side of the sight block, this rifle also offers added collectibility and resale value. If you're seeking a rifle with traditional style and superior quality, the Jack Exotic Padauk rifle is an excellent choice. It comes with one 30-round AK-47 magazine.
