Exotic Zebra Wood

Originating in Central Africa, Zebra wood is renowned for its distinctive striping pattern, featuring a light-colored base with dark stripes reminiscent of a zebra's markings. This highly sought-after exotic wood is often used for wall paneling, custom furniture, exotic guitars, and firearm stocks. In the past, it even found its way into the interiors of Cadillac and Mercedes-Benz vehicles. The striping pattern varies from tree to tree, making each stock set a unique work of art. These one-of-a-kind stock sets will set your rifle apart and make it the envy of the range.
