Imported from Rogow, Poland, and crafted by WBP, the Jack 762 Tactical rifle presents a blend of robust features with a tactical edge. WBP, a Polish firearms manufacturer, supplies parts and firearms to police, military, and civilian users around the globe. This rifle, chambered in 7.62x39 and semi-automatic, is compatible with a broad range of Kalashnikov pattern magazines and drums. Its barrels, provided by FB Radom, a key supplier for the Polish military, are hammer-forged and chrome-lined, ensuring durability and excellent accuracy.

The rifle features a HuxWrx Suppressor mount, enabling the attachment of HuxWrx/OSS suppressors like the Helix 762 HD QD (not included). This mount has been installed and aligned by the expert team at Atlantic Arms MFG, ensuring safe and accurate suppressor use. Additionally, Atlantic Arms includes the HuxWrx Blastphemy Blast Deflector, which directs the muzzle blast and pressure away from you and nearby individuals when a suppressor isn't in use.

Other highlights include an authentic Polish Wire Side Folding Stock, a U.S. Palm Bakelite Color Pistol Grip, and a TDI Arms AKML M-LOK Lower handguard. These features make the rifle compact when stowed and versatile for adding personal accessories such as lights, lasers, or foregrips via the M-LOK handguard. The rifle also boasts factory serial numbers on most major components and a Polish Eagle on the sight block, enhancing its collectibility and resale value. If you're in search of an AK rifle with classic aesthetics, modern features, and top-notch quality, this might be your ideal choice. It comes with one 30-round AK47 magazine.

US 922 R parts include the Pistol Grip, Muzzle Brake, Gas Piston, and Magazine.
