Imported from Rogow, Poland, and manufactured by WBP, the Jack 556SR Tactical B5 Rifle combines robust features with a tactical edge. WBP, a Polish firearms manufacturer, provides components and firearms to law enforcement, military, and civilian shooters globally. The Jack Tactical B5 rifle is chambered in 5.56x45mm semi-auto and is compatible with a broad range of Kalashnikov pattern magazines and drums.

The rifle is equipped with a high-quality HuxWrx Suppressor mount attached to its durable barrel. This muzzle device facilitates the attachment of HuxWrx/OSS Suppressors such as the Helix 762 HD QD and Flow 762 K (sold separately). The mount has been expertly installed and bore alignment verified by the skilled team at Atlantic Arms MFG to ensure secure and effective use of your suppressor. Additionally, the rifle features the HuxWrx Blastphemy Blast Deflector for situations when a suppressor is not in use, directing the blast and pressure downrange rather than around you and others nearby.

Other notable features include the B5 Mil-Spec Bravo Stock, TDI Arms ERG Pistol Grip, TDI Arms AKS-T Buffer Tube, and a TDI Arms AKML M-LOK Lower handguard. These components allow for quick stock length adjustments and enable the attachment of personal accessories such as lights, lasers, and foregrips via the M-LOK handguard. The rifle also boasts factory serial numbers on most major parts and displays the Polish Eagle on the sight block, enhancing its collectibility and resale value. If you seek an AK rifle with classic styling, modern functionality, and high quality, this might be the ideal choice. It comes with one 30-round AK556 magazine.

US 922 R parts include the Pistol Grip, Muzzle Brake, Gas Piston, and Magazine.
