The Jack 100 Series Classic rifle, imported from Rogow, Poland, and produced by WBP, blends traditional Polish craftsmanship with the modern innovations of the AK-100 series, resulting in exceptional performance and reliability. WBP is a respected Polish firearms manufacturer that supplies weapons and parts to law enforcement, military, and civilian markets worldwide. Chambered in 5.56mm, the Jack 100 Series is a semi-automatic rifle compatible with a wide variety of Mil-Spec magazines and drums. This model incorporates key features from the AK-100 series, including a 90-degree gas block, a 24mm muzzle brake, and dual bayonet lugs. Originally crafted in Poland, these rifles are further enhanced in the U.S. by WBP USA to comply with 922r regulations. They also feature a striking laminate stock set and a deep, rich black finish on the metal components.

For added collectibility, the Jack 100 Series rifles are stamped with factory serial numbers on key parts, and the Polish Eagle insignia is featured on the left side of the sight block, elevating both the rifle’s visual appeal and its resale value. Each rifle comes with one 30-round AK-47 magazine, making it an ideal option for enthusiasts seeking a modernized AK rifle with proven Polish craftsmanship. The AK-100 series is a modern evolution of the legendary AK platform, introduced by Kalashnikov Concern in 1994. While similar in appearance to the AK-74, the AK-100 series offers multiple caliber options, allowing for greater versatility across various operational environments. The series incorporates updates such as a 90-degree gas block, a 24mm muzzle brake, and dual bayonet lugs, enhancing both functionality and aesthetic appeal, distinguishing it from previous AK models.
